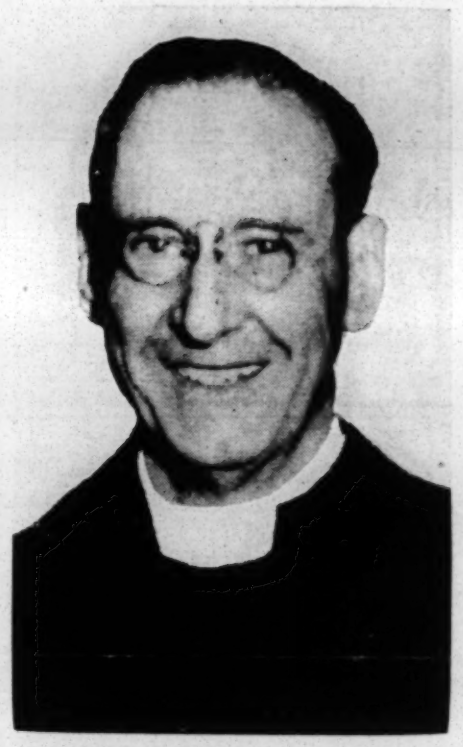
Has Spirit A Science?

This retired Episcopal minister says it has and that he intends to prove Metaphysics and Psychic Science have actually established themselves and are altogether worthy of the best minds — rewarding, conclusive, irrefutable and convincing . . . . and that he intends to forever propagate this truth.

"I looked into the face of an angel."



Thomas F. Opie, D.D.

Katie Fox Keeps A Promise

"I will be with you at Jamestown." That was a message the writer received at Norwich, N. Y., at a private seance with two friends in their own home, while on my way to Jamestown, N. Y., for the celebration of the 103rd Anniversary of the Spiritualist movement in America, sponsored by the Colville Psychic Foundation, Inc. (*)

This message came from "Katie Fox," one of the now-famed Fox Sisters who, on March 31, 1848, was responsible for the "rappings," caused by an Unseen Spirit, in a humble dwelling at Hydesville — rappings which have literally "been heard around the world," since that eventful episode.

Katie fulfilled that promise to the last word, appearing at an apport demonstration and materializing later on, so that all present saw and heard her. It was a thrilling experience, and my own first contact with such objective physical phenomena.

The celebration began with a banquet at the Masonic Temple on the evening of March 31 and lasted two weeks, with numerous demonstrations of psychic phenomena, through the mediumship of Lula Taber and her daughter, Gloria.

Spiritualists and friends of the movement came from as far west as California; from Canada and many states of the Union. I do not hesitate to report that for me this was the most thrilling experience of my life of almost 70 years. Not only was I personally convinced of the fact of spirit-communication, but I was inspired and lifted as never before in all my life as a minister of the orthodox faith (Episcopal). Let no one question that the experience proved beyond doubt the actuality of psychic (soul) manifestation: billet reading, apport demonstration, physical and mental mediumship, personal materialization on the part of our loved departed, and other incidents of spirit-phenomena.

I saw and talked with seven members of my own family, some of whom have been in "Summerland" for sixty years. Not only did I see these persons, but I heard them, talked to them and had them place hands on my cheek and head and shoulders, in as actual and as factual a manner as if they were present in the bodies and forms that they wore when in the flesh on this earth. More of that later on.

At the banquet Juliette Ewing Pressing, founder of the sponsoring foundation, presided as toastmistress and hostess, together with her husband and collaborator, Ralph G. Pressing —both of whom proved highly capable, affable and delightfully-human sponsor-hosts throughout the entire Anniversary Celebration in the fine old city of Jamestown, in the famous Chautauqua section of New York State—a substantial community of some 55,000 inhabitants, predominantly of the sturdy Swedish tradition.

The Psychic Observer sanctum, at 10 East 4th St., opposite St. Luke's impressive Episcopal church, was headquarters, but sessions were also held at the Jamestown Hotel and the Masonic Temple—no doubt, I may suggest, as a gesture to the incredulous who might assume that the place of meeting must be a locale entirely under the control of the Spiritualist sponsors, where perchance they could "manipulate" things so as to serve their own ends.

Let me here add that if any dared suggest that there was a single incident connected with this holy and inspired occasion that was "tricky," "played-up," "faked" or in any particular "otherwise-than-as-represented" (a bona fide religious exercise of the most inspired and realistic and "honest" content throughout) they would simply stultify themselves, insult my own personal intelligence, do disservice to the Spirit of God and bring unwonted reproach to the scores, indeed the hundreds of the badly-called "Dead" in the etheric planes—heaven, if you prefer.

Friends, I was there—right in the center and circle of all this, up-front at all times, during my four days in Jamestown—and I know what I'm saying, any doubter, any questioner, any captious critic anywhere to the contrary.

The writer's subject for the banquet occasion was "Has Spirit a Science?" (*) My intention was to demonstrate that metaphysics and psychic research have actually established themselves as an infant "science"—and that as time goes on, and as honest investigators take up a serious inquiry into this unlimited field of intellectual pursuit, this whole matter must be found to be at the heart of life —religious to a degree, scientific to the last ectoplasmic and cytoplasmic manifestation of mind, matter and spirit-essence —and altogether worthy of the best minds, rewarding, conclusive, ineluctable, convincing to the last end.

This I put in print deliberately, after a personal, independent and previously "uncomitted" study of thirty years in this field—and now, gladly, after actual close-up, distinterested observation of the varying grades of demonstrated phenomena, under strict test-conditions.

Under the mediumship of the Tabers, two as honest and sincere folk as one would meet in a lifetime, I myself received an "apport" in the form of a beautifully-carved stone, one of half a dozen tokens-out-of-etheric-space materialized and presented to designated individuals in the audience by the spirits of loved ones, just as surely as these departed souls ever presented gifts at Christmas when alive in the body of flesh on earth.

Mine, I took to a jeweler who told me that it was a yellow topaz. It is smoothly cut, with some thirty "facets" and a thing to be treasured — having been handled by Unseen Hands, "dematerialized" from matter, brought into the hall without human hands. dropped upon the floor "undesignated" and later designated for me by Katie Fox, through the "control" or "guide" of the Mother-and-Daughter mediums, the Tabers.

This, I actually expect my own personal friends to deny although they were not there!— but certainly the Spiritualists themselves will understand my intention here.

In smaller seance sessions in the seance room at the Psychic Observer headquarters, more than a score of us, on varying occasions, saw more than a hundred different Spirit Intelligences, mostly our own beloved departed, appear — first, as a mere vapory figure, then in a "build-up" into actual physical form, with head, body, hands— all unmistakably visible, in a soft red glow — a dim light which permitted visual observation.

We saw and heard these Visitants stand, kneel, dance, repeat poetry, sing, pick up heavy brass cymbals, an ebony castanet (which they used in several dance-demonstrations, performing with grace, rhythm and charm) — and beat a drum — and also press the pushbutton to start the victrola.

I was specially impressed with the tango dance done by an unidentified Spirit to the tune of "Jealousy" played throughout on the Pressings' victrola — a sustained demonstration of several minutes' duration on the part of a clever dancer out of the Beyond.

In one seance an old Indian chief made his appearance and captivated the group with his dignity—and his drum-playing. The whole atmosphere was informal and we actually exchanged quips with Jackie, the Cabinet Guide of Gloria Taber —said to be a Seminole Indian herself, though to me she sounded more like a Southerner, with her amusing terms of "Honey" and "Sugar" which she applied freely to several persons—and her quaint and highly humorous brogue—possibly assumed on her part. I wouldn't know.

She proved a choice "Master of Ceremonies" and kept the whole seance on a high level of "naturalness." There was no sob-stuff—no oily unction, no "spooky" speech, sometimes resorted to on the part of non-Spiritualists who undertake to "fake" this sort of demonstration.

One would have thought that "Jackie," Gloria's "control" or cabinet-guide was herself present, in her physical life, behind the cabinet curtain. Her voice was sharp, crisp, serious or whimsical, as she saw fit, and could be heard distinctly by everyone present.

During an informal moment, when there was a brief pause (after I had caught something of the whimsy of Jackie herself), I volunteered, "Jackie, you are out of this world!" Reply, "I shore is—but I'se right here!" And she was right there, in THE SPIRIT—and at one interval she made a rare "physical" appearance before the whole group.

I was at the cabinet receiving my own Unseen Intimates, when there was a lull. Jackie burst out from the cabinet for an instant's presence, had a few "funny words" with me, and made some remark about my "making her laugh," which I followed up with, "I even laugh to keep from crying and sometimes I 'laugh up my sleeve'" —which I proceeded to do, literally, with my cuff to my mouth.

At this silly sally, Jackie chortled and darted back into the cabinet—or wherever she took up her spirit-abode. For me. I think there WAS NO CABINET—indeed, no ROOM, no PHYSICAL OBJECT of any sort, to the spirit-senses of Jackie and the scores of other etheric or spirit-persons who demonstrated.

It was as if they were in THE UNIVERSAL—and as if all of the physical walls, the doors, the floors, even the whole building itself, were "merged" to SPIRIT, so to speak.

I was one of a committee who examined every nook of the place. There were no "secret" openings—no "trap-doors," no exits or entrances whatever — save the one door leading into the room, a place about 20 by 30 feet. This door was closed after we had assembled, and two persons sat on folding chairs, against the door — so, that no PHYSICAL ingress or egress could be available.

I examined the walls, the floors, the wiring, the simple furniture, the chairs, the props (drum, castanets, victrola,

I examined the curtains and drapes, for possible "pockets" for apports or any other appurtenance — anything by way of accessories that "might be trumped up" or "trickily" resorted to in any way. I felt of the walls for hidden doors, man-holes or exits — likewise the ceiling and the floors.

In plain fact, there were, by count, more than one hundred Spirit-Beings introduced to us, at a single sitting — appearing as out of Nowhere and disappearing again into Everywhere —or wherever. It is inconceivable that a small group of Spiritualists, representing a cross-section of business, society, religious paper (Protestant) in Virginia, to a Christian Science Mass Meeting in Constitution Hall, Washington, D. C.; from a Moral Rearmament Mass Meeting in the same hall, to the Episcopal triennial General Conventions at Atlantic City and Cincinnati; from a local Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian or other religious conclave, to the World Conference on Faith and Order in Lausanne, Switzerland — from political rallies and all sorts of conventions, to a selected group of 100 scientists in medicine, psychiatry, social science, meeting in Washington to ask "What is the Matter with the World? — and What Can We Do About It?"

In all this exactly nobody has ever questioned either my capacity for factual reporting nor

On my honor, there was no slight possibility that any human being, or any physical contraption, object, prop or accessory, could be introduced into this setting during the seance. Nothing could be "hidden," by way of precious stones or other objects to be faked out as "apports," nor could any "stooges," any physical collaborators, assistants, or unseen hidden huligion, could have "commanded the services" of so many "human stooges" or "assistants" as appeared (in the Spirit)—had they had a tricky mind to do so.

Let me get personal for a moment. As a "reporter" I have witnessed and written about, thousands, tens of thousands of human events—from a Roman Catholic mission which I daily reported in a lo-my integrity to report it as I saw it.

It simply does not make sense that I should have to request a similar credence in what I am reporting in this paper. This request I refuse to make, folks. You can take it or leave it. I strongly advise that you "take it."

It would seem on the face of things that this scribe might be almost unique to testify in a matter such as this. The scene of the seances was nearly a thousand miles from my native habitat in Virginia, where my numerous family connections lived and served. Nobody connected with the demonstrations knew anything about these persons—nor about me.

I was known to only two of the large group gathered to celebrate an Anniversary — the Pressings themselves, who met me only last fall and who never made any attempt to "type" my family, to garner facts about their names, their age, their business, nor their social standing—nor had they asked me for any intimate information. They did not know even the names of the persons who appeared at the seances and conversed with me. As for the Tabers themselves, they had never seen me and knew nothing of my connections.

The fact that I have studied objectively in the realms of research for many years—that I have always kept a mind open and hospitable to "new truth"—and been ready to be "guided into further truth"—and that I have written as a free-lance for thirty or more periodicals, on a great variety of themes—and was trained in practical journalism—this all sums up to what, frankly, I feel is ample "qualification" for sitting in at an event of this kind—and faithfully reporting it for the press.

Let me add also that my services in this connection are not "bought." This article is gratis. My judgment and opinion are not for sale. There was no compensation nor honorarium for the "Guest Speaker" address in connection with the Anniversary banquet—only "expenses" involved in getting to and from the lovely city of Jamestown—and, Oh, yes! A delicious Smorgasbord dinner without personal cost to me!

This, merely as an attempt to thwart any innuendo as to just how an orthodox clergyman of another faith might "happen" to be "drawn into" the Spiritualist camp, with a view to "being used."

It is a sad and humiliating commentary on the general public mind that any such "explanation' might be needed in a situation like this—but many of us in public life know beyond doubt that canards and innuendoes are too often indulged in by small minds, religious bigots and plain "unbelievers." Maybe "I should worry!"—but I shall not.

But hold your breath for this. At the final seance that I attended which was described as "The Circle of the Masters," fifteen Ancients came out of the Past and the Unseen—to heal, to pray with and to advise and counsel as many "connections" in the audience—a private seance arranged especially for Juliette Pressing's Class, with several special guests.

Every person present was called forward singly to kneel at the cabinet or to sit, according to convenience. Not myself being of the elect, I frankly had no idea of being chosen for this amazing development.

After two others had been called by a lovely Celestial who gave her name as "Deborah" which she did at fifteen different Spirit appearances, the name "Thomas" was called, distinctly and firmly. Not knowing that I was the only Thomas on hand and certainly not knowing of any "Master" who would honor me, by a miraculous introduction into human affairs, out of the Infinitude of Celestial Service, I remained seated—just for a fleeting instant, until the Cabinet Attendant, Gloria (her mother was the entranced medium whose ectoplasmic energy enabled these Visitants to "materialize") came to me and ushered me to the prayer rug. Here I knelt and immediately became conscious of a Presence.

The Master, or whoever (my spirit guide, "guardian angel" or Celestial Councillor) placed his hand upon my head in benediction. It was as actual a "laying on of hands" as when a distinguished Episcopal bishop, many years ago, laid his sacred human hands on my head at confirmation and later on at my ordination to the ministry.

The Voice: "The words, 'Suffer little children to come unto me,' were not words spoken in vain. You are a child of God. I place upon your shoulder" (touching my left shoulder) "a crescent—an anchor, signifying that you are anchored in Light, in Truth, in Love (which is God!) and in Charity. It seldom happens that a great brain (wisdom) and a strong body go together—but you will carry on. I am your Brother. I have long walked with you. I shall walk with you through all Eternity."

Who this Celestial Visitor was, I do not know. Neither he nor the other fourteen "Masters" who materialized and spoke to their proteges, made any attempt at identity, nor did they announce a name by which they might be known. I do not know who they were, but I do know that they were.

They were announced as members of "The Great White Brotherhood," apparently an organized coterie of Spirit-Intelligences who have made it their business to influence earth-folk for their own spiritual benefit and well-being. Having been told fifteen years ago by a psychically disposed friend that I myself was a member of this Brotherhood, anticipating my entry into the world of spirit, this announcement was not altogether foreign to my concept.

Each person present seemed to have a "Master-Guide" on the etheric plane, as every man and woman present was called by name, by the Unseen Cabinet-Guide, or by the Figure who at each appearance announced, "I am Deborah."

Only the first name was called, which suggested an intimacy and a sacred association — though only a few were known personally to the Spirit Attendants or the mediums or the Presiding Spirit of the event.

One lady near me was called. She went forward to the cabinet and kneeled reverently on the white rug spread for that purpose. Said her Guide, "The Temple is depleted," evidently to observe that this person was physically below par. Further, "I pray for chemicalization through your body—from the crown of your head to your feet." He placed his arms around her and I could see the full sleeves of the robe he wore drape over her head and shoulders.

"You are highly nervous," said another Guide, to a tall young man who had been called by name, as he knelt in silence. He assented that this was quite so—and the Voice added, "I will help you always."

To another, "You give and give and give—for others, and your body, where the soul resides, is weakened," etc. He went through a touching healing process. "There are two ways—either to wait, or to run away, from any problem." He suggested patient waiting and added, "The Kingdom of God is on earth just as surely as it is in heaven."

A Roman Catholic lady sitting next to me was summoned by her Christian name, by an impressive Figure who appeared for her alone, with a prayer-book and a rosary in his hands. One of the Masters urged his charge to "Pray for peace in the world—for Brotherhood of Soul as well as well as Brotherhood of body."

Another: "I have walked with you many miles. We will walk all the way together." What was apparently an Oriental came through and summoned us all to prayer. Said he, "I pray as of the East—to Allah. Let love and charity prevail."

A rather corpulent lady was summoned. As she knelt, the Voice said. "You are in a weakened condition. The heart is sound—but there is too much sugar. It is your stomach. There is pressure of gas there." He treated her, in a most touching and compassionate manner.

Another: "Bad is only imperfect good." Another: "The hardest thing you have to do is to forgive and forget. Learn that lesson. Send out what good and blessing you have here received—to others all over the world. It will come back to you a blessed Blessing."

Again: "I place 'purple' around your shoulder. Do you know why?" The kneeler did not know why. The Voice, "Because purple is durable."

One lady was asked what she desired most of all on earth. She mentioned three things, but her voice was so subdued that I heard only, "I want a home." Reply, "You have a Home. It is here, everlastingly. Healing and blessing upon you."

This Masters Circle seance lasted almost three hours. It must not be thought that this is a complete record of what was said. Far from it. It would have been impossible to take notes in the dim light of the seance room, had there been any disposition to do so — in so amazing, so exalted, so utterly celestial a setting as this.

Trumpet-in-the-light demonstration

Having a fairly good memory, I made the notes as above, immediately after, and the quotations are verbatim. Further comment, it seems to me, would be presumptuous. The whole "feel" of the thing was profoundly moving. There was an atmosphere of celestial reverence. It left a sense of holy awe the like of which I had never before felt. The whole program was "organized," coherent, backed up by highly intelligent thought. The seance came to an end with a group prayer, in which Spirit and Flesh, Discarnates and Incarnates, took part, melding in such a manner as to thrill one to the depths of his being.

After the session, I talked to the medium who had sat for almost three hours, inside the cabinet. Lula Taber was in no wise used-up or fatigued by the long trance through which she had passed. She knew nothing of what had been said or done. She was as fresh, to all appearances, as when she entered the cabinet — where she had been examined by a committee of women, who put it in writing that they had made a thorough examination of her person and her clothing and found nothing but her simple garments.

This was for "test" purposes, and the procedure was followed before each seance — both the examination of the cabinet, curtains, floors, walls, etc., and an examination of the body and the personal garments of the two mediums. There was no subterfuge. It was all open and above-board. Nobody in attendance could possibly have had any doubt that things were as represented.

Mrs. Taber is a very large person. Webster defines "ectoplasm" as "the emanation from a medium." The unseen energy of a trance medium furnishes the stuff of which the material parts and the garments of the materializing Spirit are composed. They "build" up by making use of this ectoplasmic substance.

It is unthinkable that a departed soul, dead to sense-perception for, say sixty or more years, as were at least three of those who manifested for me (my own loved ones) could "build up" an exact and complete reproduction of the physical body and parts, lineaments of the face, the countenance, expression, etc., which they had when they walked this earth in human, bodily, fleshly form.

I myself did not expect that. I did hear one person express disappointment that her loved one was not "exactly" and precisely "as she was when on earth." How could she be? Even the finest sculpture on exhibit in the famed museums fail to portray such exactitude.

How could a Soul build itself up out of another's protoplasmic or ectoplasmic stuff, into an identical replica of the old body? Do be sane about this, my doubting Thomases! And the voice—how could the old vocal chords long gone to dust —the complete "voice-box" — of one deceased, be "exactly" reproduced—in timbre, tone, inflection, total quality? It does not make sense.

No two human voices are ever found to be acutely identical. How could any thinking investigator expect that total 'identity" of material parts be achieved by a materializing soul, after it has discarded every shred of the matter-of-the-old-body? Evidentiality must rest elsewhere, though the reproduction is often as nearly identical with the old form as are any two portraits of the same person, painted by two different artists.

It is in "personality," in essential genius of soul, in "question-and-answer," in subtle things almost too evasive for analysis — in the total picture, the whole "experience" of "seeing" the departed one—it is in these matters that the inquirer must find his evidence of survival, of identity, of individual personal existence in the land of spirit. That is where I found identity on the part of the Spirits who made themselves known to me. I assert that it was they.

Gloria Taber, hardly past twenty years of age, is presumed to be the youngest materialization medium alive today. She faked nothing. She evaded nothing — nor did her mother. She is one of the most refreshing persons that I have met in two professions that throw one into the company of thousands —newspapering and the ministry.

She can discuss almost any subject from psychiatry to divinity—from politics to philosophy. And she talks with utter freedom, sans any possible suggestion of "fanaticism,' or bias. She told me that she was baptized first as an Episcopalian, then as a "Christian," (Baptist), and later on she entered two other religious bodies, seeking Something that would fully satisfy her own soul's needs.

Then she found Spiritualism, was ordained into that ministry, and is now the Rev. Gloria Taber. Her ministry is as beautiful and as useful as it is inexplicable and subtle.

It was Gloria who in a billet-reading, blind-fold test, first indicated to me that "John" was present. I had addressed a question to my father, indicating "Senior," as there is also a Junior over there.

"This is 'Senior'," she said—though she could not conceivably have "seen" with her physical eyes my single question, among the scores which went forward. In fact, she did not even look at them, as I watched her closely all the time, not ten feet from where she stood.

Later on Gloria in a "trumpet" seance, tightly, securely bound to her chair, so that she could not possibly use her hands or feet was the agency through whom I and half a dozen others procured "apports," as already indicated in this paper. I was interested to see what Authority had to say about this little word.

Webster: "Apport (Spiritualism) — the appearance of flowers, fruit, hands, etc., a phenomenon common at materialization seances." Example: "I take it that the two birds were not the only apports you received." Well, Mr. Doubter, swallow the old dictionary — and get some "inside information."

What I now write would, if I should follow my own inclination and the strict amenities of "taste," be kept within the personal consciousness, and not divulged for public consumption. Yet I feel impelled to be frank about the whole matter. This would not be a full report of the Spiritualist Anniversary celebration without what follows, sacred to me as it is and essentially personal.

It has to do with two materialization seances at which members of my immediate family did actually appear, did talk to me, did convince me that they are alive, have personal identity, and do know what is transpiring on this plane as well as on their own.

An English gentleman was once asked, "Is there proof that Scott really reached the South Pole? Is his flag still there? Is his hut there? Are there any signs now remaining, which would convince a now-visitor to the Pole?"

The answer was firmly in the negative, to the effect that certainly all of this sort of evidence has disappeared, been swept away or else deeply covered in snow and ice. "How then do you know that Scott was there?"

The reply was significant: "By the word of men who could not lie." What I am about to relate is "common knowledge" with the adepts, all through Spiritualist circles. That is to say materialization is a fact.

We have the word of men who could not lie. Such men as Oliver Lodge, Flammarion, Crookes, Doyle, Hyslop, William James, and thousands of lesser names. Why should such men be believed in chemistry, in physics, in any field mentionable? — and yet discredited when they tell it out that the Dead do not die—that they have communicated with the departed.

In all justice, I feel that I have the essential right to a place among those who would not lie. That right I claim in this connection.

The Spirit of him who was my maternal grandfather, deceased for more than half a century, appears, the late Rev.

"You are my grandfather," I say.

"I am the minister who led you into the ministry," he replies.

Not only I, but every person in the seance room heard and saw. This was a full program, with almost two hundred Celestials to appear. There was little time for talk. The figures appeared for only a moment and were gone. This was in the nature of the case. As this Figure disappeared, Jackie, the Cabinet-Guide, spoke out vigorously, "That was your mother's father."

I said, "Yes, Fletcher."

She: "Yes, Fletcher, an unusual name."

Such a figure as I have never laid eyes on came through when my own mother was announced. She had passed over when I was in the earliest teens, fifty-five years ago. I was once told, personally, through a friend who had definite psychic faculty, that my mother was "in the Seventh Sphere" (A Celestial).

I asked, "Have you any sense of having come a great distance to get here?"

Her reply, "No. I am always 'here'."

At one time her face was not six inches from mine. I LOOKED INTO THE FACE OF AN ANGEL.

Such features I have not seen. Every lineament was smooth, sharp, alive. It was like looking into the face of some rare sculptured figure, wrought out in the smoothest marble, with an aliveness, especially of the eyes, that was startling. It seemed to have a pinkish, an iridescent glow, as of some form of idealized chalcedony.

"Are you still interested in music—do you still sing?" I asked.

"Yes. I will sing for you tonight," she replied, without hesitation.

She had been a distinguished medalist in music, an accomplished soprano soloist and a brilliant pianist—in days long gone, and now only a sacred memory to me. She did sing for me that evening, at the second seance. And she sang for everybody there. You could have heard her rendering of one verse of, "Lead Kindly Light," through a large auditorium. She was accompanied with a violin.

I tried to get the Guide, Jackie, to identify the violinist, but she only said, "Rev. Opie would probably know who it was."

I cannot recall a family connection or a celestial intimate who might have "accompanied" with the violin. She then sang snatches from a love ballad, and was gone as swiftly as she had appeared—gliding out of sight like a disappearing grayish-white cloud. It was the Spirit that was my mother-in-the-flesh all these years back.

Presently an impressive male figure appears. "Is this Bishop Freeman?" I ask.

"This is Freeman. You are doing a great work."

I immediately inject, "Greater because of your influence," and he says, as he vanishes out of my sight, "And you will do greater work yet."

This was the late, the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, D.D., LL.D., my one-time Bishop of the Diocese of Washington.

At the evening session, this Figure again appeared, and delivered for us a brief homily. I was so utterly absorbed in the episode itself, that memory does not, unfortunately, yield his exact words. It had to do with the sad fact that as Christ's followers, we talk a great deal about "Loving our neighbors," and yet do not actually behave as if we really loved them, but hold grudges, spites, uncharitable attitudes. It was a vigorous, coherent and soulful vocal expression—and the Figure was gone.

Both my father and an elder brother were announced, the late Captain John N. Opie, Sr., Virginia, and his son, the late John N. Opie, Jr., Baltimore, Md. As the son took form before my eyes, not ten feet from where I stood, Jackie's voice said, synchronously with his immediate disappearance, "That was Junior."

Said I, "Yes, my eldest brother, John Opie."

To the Senior, I said, "You were my father."

Instant reply, "I am still your father," and he was gone from sound and vision.

At the later seance, my grandfather again came to me. He stepped close up. With his right hand he took first my right shoulder in his firm grip and shook me vigorously, then with the same hand he took hold of my left shoulder and shook it likewise.

I said to him, "You have great power there."

He instantly replied: "I could shake you up considerably."

I riposted, "You certainly could, Sir! Then I would probably become a 'Shaker'!"

He could have shaken me, I truly believe, as the Angel of the Good Book must have "shaken" Jacob of old, when he "wrestled all night long." That Spirit could have literally shaken my soul out of its body. But he left me with a blessing that I shall not soon lose.

My grandmother who passed over when I was a mere lad, came upon the scene for a fleeting moment and vanished without a remembered word. Then a sister, who had been announced as "Mary," took visible form before me. On earth she was, I consider, the most exquisitely beautiful creature my eyes ever caressed — a natural peachlike complexion, lovely long tresses, and a form and carriage such as a Queen might glory in.

I asked her, "Are you conscious of your brothers and sisters—what they are doing on the earth?"

Her reply was instantaneous and significant, "Of course I am still interested in the members of my family."

Then she left me, enthralled. But I recall that I pulled myself together when the facetious "Jackie" made some whimsical remark. I spoke out to her, "That was my elder sister, Mamie. Dad, who was a great one for 'nicknaming' his children (a dozen in all, by two wives), used to call her 'Pigeon' (no doubt for her wonderful form and carriage). He called her "Pige' for short."

Jackie: "Well, she shore ain't no 'pigeon' now!"

It was all so "natural" that way. Jackie was a master at keeping the atmosphere from growing heavy with sob-stuff. And friends, if you have never looked into the face of Angels, talked to them, had them caress you, dance for you, sing for you and altogether flabbergast you with their celestial reality and their heavenly and abiding love, you can have no appreciation of the depth of the emotion that wells up through your total being—especially when this is happening numerously to you for the first time in your human consciousness! It is truly terrific! But it is also amazingly, sweetly convincing, inspiring and reassuring.

The Spirit that was my mother, I neglected to say, stroked my cheeks tenderly with both her lovely hands as she left me to commune with six others of my family connection and with the Bishop who had identified himself as "Your old friend, Freeman." I had felt the touch of an Angel.

As she vanished, I said to her, "You are beautiful," but she had got beyond my physical ken and I heard no reply. But "Jackie," ever on the alert, retorted with a chuckle, "You're pretty handsome yourself!"

"That's all for now, Honey," advised the Guide—an unfailing signal that your time was up—and others present would receive their beloved departed. I had hardly taken my seat, however, when a lovely angelic form whisked herself out of the Ether, glided ten feet from the cabinet to where I rested and in a sweet whisper said to me, "This is Ethel."

That's all. She was gone like a flash of pink lightning. It was the angelic figure of a younger sister who had followed the others up the steep ascent to heaven.

During a seance I noted a mellow old gentleman from California, a man of seventy or more years, evidently of foreign extraction, go forward and have converse with several of his departed intimates. One ancient fellow, the father, I believe, placed his arms affectionately around his shoulders and asked if he could "converse in German."

He was answered in the negative, "But," he added, "I can speak in Norwegian."

That was fine—and they had quite an exchange of greeting in that tongue. Remember too, neither of the mediums knows this language, and none of the other Spirit-Beings, guides or other attendants, was acquainted with Norwegian.

A somewhat significant "test" here, if I may be so bold as to suggest it. A tall, stately Figure appeared twice, at different sessions and sang feelingly the Lord's Prayer in full.

At the private seance prior to the Anniversary celebration, referred to at the opening of this paper, in Norwich, Katie Fox had answered the medium's call and I had inquired about Woodrow Wilson, of whom I had written an un-published biography. "I can get him," said Katie—"Will start now."

While she was gone another Spirit came through and said, "Wait." We waited. In a short space we got: "Woodrow Wilson. Many have written about me but the book you have written should find a publisher. The world will soon realize the urgent need for the principles I enunciated."

"Where can I find a publisher?" I asked.

"Try my old friend . . ." was all I got — just as if someone had "cut in" on your old telephone and your friend's voice was silenced.

In the last seance I attended under Gloria Taber, Katie Fox made a rare personal appearance for us. We all saw and heard her. I observed, "I received an apport through your intervention."

"Yes," she said simply.

She danced a dozen feet away from the curtain, into the center of the room, like some gay young angelic sprite, clipping crisply her famous "rappings" — one-two-three — and was gone in an instant. But not until she had fulfilled her promise: "I will be with you at Jamestown." ■

4. The Battalions of Heaven.

Leader's messages, continued from the 'Ministry of Heaven,' reach their climax in this volume, where he is identified with Arnel, whose name has already appeared. His subject-matter is dealt with more intensely than before, and he reveals the aim of the previous writings. His range is cosmic. The passage following reminds one of the introduction to John's Gospel:

'From BEING came forth God, and from God came the Word, and of the Word was the Christ of God ordained to Kingship of the Worlds for their salvation. And in the eternities man shall follow Him, after the long journey in places strange, and some most desolate, homeward, Godward, in the evening of the day whose hours are eternities, and whose Noon is now.'

Evil — The Ancient Confusion.

He has much to say about fundamentals of existence. He takes, for example, that ancient underlying impulse of very ancient origin which spiritual rulers have to counter and adapt, due to those who planned to manifest the Mind of God in matter. Some rulers wished to take a short cut to perfection others chose a longer way. The two groups overlapped when in activity, resulting in the confusion we call 'evil'.

Diversity is also expressed in the outer realms. Earth is strewn with former trials of wisdom, of faculties still developing, of discarded materials which have served their purpose. Sometimes things reach an impasse, and found inadequate, fade into inertia and bring that line of evolution to an end. The reptilia of the fossil- beds, clumsy though they seem, were the blocks used in laying foundations for what is being built today.

Thinking Spirally

Another fundamental, the Spiral principle, was foreordained, and carried out by Creative Lords, the Christ being President of their Council. First, God's Thought, pulsing outward, became denser until it issued into ether. The movement was doubly spiral, for, as the urge completed a spiral, it turned inwards and within the former spiral traced another. The outer spiral lost speed, turned, and on its return gained speed ready for the next spiralling.

The motion of etheric and physical atoms is spiral, also the orbits of planets round suns, and of suns round their center, which form a gigantic spiral nebula.

Thinking of spiritual spheres as interior and physical sphere as exterior, the same principle holds good, external motion being slower than internal; outer spirals trudge uphill, inner spirals scamper downhill. Life in lighter spheres moves easily, but in dark spheres it drags along.

When creating, great Lords think spirally, as God does. Arnel halts here, unable to say more than that it is a most difficult faculty to acquire.

The spiral urge appears plainly in nature. Certain plants climb spirally, some using spiral hooks and tendrils. Veins in trees tend to slant across the trunk; seeds float earthward spirally. Flying birds veer from the straight and, given enough space, follow spiral form.

But in the higher orders it is modified by freedom of will and action, whereas where instinct rules, as in sea-shells, the law is more apparent. In humanity the principle becomes obvious in mass-movements. Civilization moves westward, following the sun's course round the earth, never returning to the same cycle, but describing a spiral.

Our new discoveries were made long ago. Each discovery happens when we travel along the incline immediately above that part of the spiral where the discovery was made before. Inventions are adaptations of discoveries made in a previous cycle of the same spiral.

Invisible Planets

In one place Arnel says: 'There are planets which are not visible to you, albeit they be within the solar range' (system); elsewhere he says 'Two (planets) there be which are not only within the solar range, but material in substance also, but of which your science at present takes no account, but will some day.'

Pluto is now a recognized member of our solar family, but Arnel's words were transmitted in 1919. One wonders if we shall ever be able to see the invisible planets he mentions.

Are Mediums Made or Born?

By

EVAN SHEA

His Answer . . . After 30 Years Experience

Are mediums made or born? Does it pay a person to sit in a development circle? Will it bring results, etc., etc., etc.?

These and many other questions have been asked during my last thirty-five years on the public platform. When asked by interested people who wanted to be mediums; those who wanted to develop their psychic powers; and those who wanted to do platform work, I have always tried to answer.

But, the old adage, something for nothing, still holds good. Like any other vocation, mediumship demands sacrifice, perseverence, self- effort, inspiration, ability and the spark within. The spark mu t be there.

You cannot start a fire without a spark. All cannot be writers, artists, scientists, and doctors. There are many paths and many vehicles. All persons should adapt themselves to a vehicle compatible to their urge and ability. And so it is with mediumship.

You may sit in a development circle all your life and never get a single definite instruction or vision. You may not hear a single spirit voice. That doesn't mean it is not there. We have had students who developed fully during their very first sitting!

The spark was there, the vehicle was ready, the forces were right and the door was opened. One cannot demand mediumship. It is an essence and it comes and goes of itself. It is a free thing. Indeed, you cannot force mediumship nor can you rid yourself of it.

Then, again, it may take time to fan the spark into a flame of realization and revelation. We had a student who sat for over five years. She never missed a single class. All through these years, she was absolutely dormant. Nothing ever happened to her.

Yet, she was sincere and really believed. She never lost her faith. During one sitting she was accidentally entranced and right then and there she was able to act as an instrument for the spirit world.

It turned out that she was a trance worker. Consciously she was firm, positive and stern. She demanded everything to be proven. But, in trance, she was ready. She was a trance medium and a trance medium only. Which shows we not only need the spark, but also, the vehicle.

There are many who pretend to be spiritual workers. But, we find pretenders in every field of human endeavor, the butcher, the baker, the mechanic, etc. On the other hand, many pretend to do jobs they are not qualified to perform. They too, can be classed as pretenders.

This is a recognized fact. But, I think the greatest calamity, Spiritualists and Spiritual Scientists have to contend with, is the undeveloped medium.

By undeveloped, I mean those workers who are not quite ready. True, they are honest insofar as they know, but, they have not unfolded their spiritual gifts enough to

Then Mars. He says that ordinary citizens of earth are keenly interested in Mars because we and they are akin. They who say they are ahead of us in intellectual development, however, are wrong. In some ways they are ahead, in others they lag behind. Arnel knows this because he has been there, and this we also will do normally in time.

The invisible planets, he says, have progressed in their etherializing beyond the material, and becomes ethereal . . . One of these encompasses earth, which is suffused with engrossened ether, of which the ethereal planet is composed. It has its own continents and oceans; most of its people lived on earth in a bygone age, some have never reached material manifestation in flesh.

All matter, organic and inorganic, is undergoing a refinement analogous to radio-activity, a process so slow that no perceptible change is detected in an individual's lifetime. Is this cosmic process quickened in certain cases? What happened to Elijah and others who have been 'translated'? Perhaps their physical vibrations were raised instantaneously to a point where they left the physical, and became present and visible in a higher plane.

Arnel deals with many more topics, including Dual-angels, Woman, Elementals. But the script is not merely a thinly-disguised series of essays on abstruse subjects. His descriptions of architecture and scenery, of manifestations in glorious colors, and of people, are most vivid, and his delightful parables humanize the narrative.

An idea of its style is well-shown in Arnel's account of his meeting Miramne:

'The woman was very beautiful; her radiance . . . abashed me, and I could do naught better than gaze aground in silence. And while I did so I saw her grip tighten on my hand as she raised it a little. Then down before my lowered eyes came the crown of her beautiful head as she stooped to kiss my hand. For a little time her lips remained there, and I looked upon her silken brown-gold hair, where a gold band crossed it where it parted and fell away each side. I could not speak, for the touch of them overcame me with a joy uplifting and so exquisite in its holiness as I cannot put it into words.' ■

Jesus Took Three of His Disciples .....to a Seance ! !

By

James Malcolm White

Jesus took three of His disciples to a seance . . . that is what Spiritualists would call occurrences where spirit voices are heard. There is no evidence that He had to search to find a "seance" room hence he must have been familiar with its location. Besides it appears He was so at home there during the seance that He must have attended such meetings many times previously.

Jesus, thereby, set an example for all who profess to follow Him for He said: "Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men." (Matt. 4:19)

The Gospel according to St. Matthew gives the world this account, now let us consider what took place there:

"Jesus taketh Peter, James and John. . . " The very first thing we observe is that Jesus took the lead.

"There appeared unto them Moses and Elias." They had been "dead" for many years; but the fact that they "appeared" is aceptable evidence that they had not perished.

Peter said to Jesus, "Lord, it is good for us to be here." . .

to which neither Jesus, nor James nor John disagreed.

The "disciples . . . fell on their faces, and were sore afraid." What did Jesus do? "Jesus came and touched them, and said: 'Arise, and be not afraid'." The fact that they were "sore afraid" is believed to be acceptable evidence they had never attended anything of that kind before. The fact that Jesus knew exactly what to do to calm their fears is a sign that He was a seasoned seance-goer.

'And when they lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only." The question arises naturally: "Who was the medium? Only four men are named as being present—Jesus, Peter, James and John. Since no one was present, one had to be the medium. The fact that three disciples were "sore afraid" is a good basis for excluding all three of them. Then it seems that only one man was left who could have been the medium, and that one man was Jesus.

If Jesus was the medium through whose powers Moses and Elias and "the voice out of the cloud" spoke, then Jesus must have been what we call a Spiritualist. I can see no other answer.

Conclusion

If the evidence here presented is a good basis for the conclusion that Jesus was sufficiently interested in voice mediumship to take His own disciples to hear a demonstration of it—and it seems to do so—then, instead of following Old Testament teachings about spirits and medium, we should read what Jesus said in Matthew (5:38-48) about some other Old Testament teachings, and how He substituted His higher teachings in their place.

In Old Testament times, people seemed to believe that any voice from the Spirit World was God speaking to them. But I cope with the responsibility that comes with mediumship. We must not forget for one second that mediumship carries with it a vast responsibility. The lives and hopes, the thoughts and actions, the peace and progress of our fellow humans often depends upon the ability of the medium to interpret properly.

We cannot expect the child of the kindergarten to teach the professors nor can we expect the child of the primary school to interpret the Einstein Theory of Relativity. They are not prepared. And so it is with spiritual workers. We have those who are still in the primary schools of experience and development trying to write a collegiate thesis.

Honest—yes, but not big enough to realize they are still lacking in their development, their culture, their progress, and spiritual knowledge. The result is that they make fools of themselves and hurt the cause . . . Can the apprentice teach the teacher? We recognize the child of today IS the father of tomorrow ONLY after it has passed through the years of experience, development, maturity—and time.

And so we go back to the beginning of this article. Are mediums made or born. The answer is BOTH! ■

John 4:1 gives us this higher teaching:

"Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits WHETHER THEY ARE OF GOD; because many false spirits are gone out into the world.

We should know that "great wisdom cometh not suddenly by dying" (Kosman Bible, Oahspe, Page 774, Verse 19), and that, "Great wisdom cannot be attained in a day; nor purity and strength to overcome temptation —til the growth be made from the foundation." (Oahspe 838, Chapter V, Verse 12.)

Let us accept the teachings and practice of Jesus about Spiritualism—over the Old Testament teachings—as unhesitatingly as we accept Jesus' "Love thy neighbor as thyself" over the Old Testament's "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth."

"Believe not every spirit" (I John 4:1) does not mean: "Believe not ANY spirit."

It would seem that what was good enough for Jesus would be good enough for any of his followers.

When we have the evidence that is found in Matthew 17: 1-8; Mark 9:2-8 and Luke 9: 28-36 which shows that Jesus took three of His disciples to a seance; that He seems to have been the medium for that seance: and that He agreed with one of His disciples when He said to Jesus: "Lord, it is good for us to be here," need we search for any better authority that it is good for any person to attend seances which appeal to him, remembering the admonition: "Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try (test) the spirits whether they be of God" (I John 4:1).

A strange spirit is no more worthy of our confidence than is a strange mortal. ■

Ephrata, Pennsylvania

One of the largest summer Spiritualist convocations in the East where those interested in all phases of psychic prenomena assemble to attend lectures, classes and demonstrations, will attract thousands during the forthcoming summer months mainly because extreme effort has been expended by its leader, Rev. Ethel Post-Parrish, to assemble what is believed to be their most varied and attractive program.

Although this is the 19th consecutive season, Camp Silver Belle, located at Ephrata near Harrisburg in southeastern Pennsylvania, has earned a wide reputation for presenting some of America's outstanding psychics and mediums and, this year, there will be added to the religious program, two outstanding musicians, the internationally known harpists, Katherine and Vroman DuFais who will appear on the camp program and render recitals intermittently.

Even though the official 1951 camp season at Silver Belle does not open until Saturday, June 23rd, guests will be welcome on and after June 9th. Week-end services will be conducted and some of the regular staff mediums will be on hand to render service to those who desire to attend semi-private and group seances.

The first Sunday of the official season, June 24th, Juliette Ewing Pressing, editor of Psychic Observer, will be the featured speaker. The entire first week of the season (June 23rd to the 30th) a Camp Silver Belle Life Member Convention will be held. All the activities during this week will be open to the public but the life members will be especially considered and special concessions will be made to them as to hotel rates, even to special menus in the dining room and coffee shop.

During this first week, five symposiums are on the schedule. These "Open Forums" will feature outstanding lecturers and psychics: Raymond E. Burns, Stamford, Conn.; Hugh Gordon Burroughs, Washington, D. C.; Lena Barnes Jefts, Ethel Post-Parrish and James M. Parrish.

Ethel Post-Parrish

Plans biggest season

The "Opening" banquet will be at 7 P. M., Saturday, June 30th.

After an absence of several years, Horace Leaf, F.R.G.S., London, England, lecturer, teacher and mental medium, is scheduled for a return engagement at Camp Silver Belle.

Lena Jefts says: "Among the new workers are Virginia Leach Falls, of Anderson, Indiana, and Clara Senior of Ephrata, Penna. Both are splendid psychics and lecturers and an asset to our program.

Other speakers and mediums listed on the 1951 program are: Arthur Ford, Bertha Eckroad, Marie Doyle, Elizabeth Fabian, Marguerite Holden, Ernest Holden, Emma Munch, Elizabeth Giberson, Marion Miller, C. Harrison Engel, Mary Fulton, John E. Reese, Mollie Beck, Anna K. Rose, Blanche Sears, Kitty McKay Leith, Marion Nicolette, Michael Nicolette, Laura Harbach, James Woodward, Jack Edwards and Tali E. Waters.

Healing services, "Laying on of Hands," will be under the supervision of: Albert Scheffler, James M. Parrish, Arthur Ford, H. Gordon Burroughs, John Reese, Kate Whit-

Hear them at Camp Silver Belle

The picture above, taken in St. Petersburg, Florida, shows Katherine and Vroman DuFais on the rostrum of the Spiritualist Church of the Beloved, 2800 Central Avenue. They were so well-received that they will return North and serve Camp Silver Belle during the forthcoming 1951 season.

According to Lena Jefts, author, teacher and lecturer: "Vroman DuFais was a pupil of Lorette DeLone, head harpist of the Minneapolis Symphony. He has been a featured artist of W.T.A.M. and the Symphony Concert Orchestra, both of Cleveland. He was attached to Twentieth Century Fox Films as harpist appearing in such well-known films as "Birth of a Nation," "Grand Waltz," and "Women of All Nations." He was harpist for Lindberg's reception home up his return from France..

"His wife, Katherine, harpist and accompanist, was music head for the University of Japan for five years and also supervisor of the music department of Southern College, Petersburg, Virginia. She has studied with Madame Apell, pupil of Ignace Paderewski and Dr. Hanson, Danish pianist. Mrs. DuFais attended Peabody University, Baltimore, Maryland.

"In addition to these noted harpists, those visiting Camp Silver Belle will also have an opportunity to hear Olga Ruth Carpenter, mezzo-soprano who will serve at all religious services and special occasions during Camp Silver Belle's summer season.

"Mme. Carpenter, formerly appeared at Carnegie Hall, Cleveland and St. Louis Municipal Opera. She was also soloist in 'Church of the Air' Cleveland and with International Chorus of 500 voices.

"These splendid artists will give two public concerts during the season. The first, on Monday, July 2nd, is a Benefit Concert for the Ephrata Community Hospital. Ethel Post-Parrish is a member of the hospital board and it is her desire to assist this humanitarian project in every way possible.

"Our Director of Music, James M. Parrish, has had many years of experience in opera and concert work and he will have charge of all musical programs throughout the season. His solos at the concerts will consist of excerpts from "The Student Prince," "My Maryland," "The Vagabond King" and other well-known operettas with which he was formerly associated.

"Our accomplished pianist, Olive M. Searles, will return to us again for her seventh consecutive season. Ruth Hirst, Jack Wade and others will assist Mr. Parrish as soloists, enabling us to present a splendid musical program throughout the season."

Sacramento, California

The first church to be organized in California under the auspices of the Spiritualist Episcopal Church, opened their services several months ago at the Odd Fellows Building, 31st and Broadway. Taking the name from the Eaton Rapids, Michigan, mother church, the First Spiritualist Episcopal Church of Sacramento has as its pastor, Rev. William Beasore. The church secretary, Minnie T. Beasore reports good attendance during the first few months. Already, they have installed an electric organ and plan other additions in the near future.

Milwaukee, Wisconsin

The Associated Churches of Wisconsin held their 51st annual Conference at Hotel Pfister recently according to president, Rev. F. Lorenz Lamping. Speakers and mediums listed on he program: Rev. Melvina Krauss, Rev. Emily Clark, Rev. Maude Kline, Rev. Charles L. Smith and Joseph Sax.

Others taking part in the Conference program: Mrs. Coglin and Hoechst, Miss J. Nowak, Miss Gauger and Mrs. Koeitzer.

Says Rev. Lamping: "It has often been said that mediums commercialize their abilities too much. Let it here be made clear, that Maude Kline has done more than her share in assisting the association by donating her services for a special Mass Meeting. She served the following churches in Milwaukee before and after our Conference: The First Spiritualist Church of Milwaukee; the Third Spiritualist Church of West Allis; the First Spiritualist Church of West Allis and the Psychic Science Church of Milwaukee."

South Effingham. N. H.

St. Petersburg, Florida

A report from Rev. Clifford L. Bias, pastor of the People's Spiritualist Church and one of the directors of the Spiritualist Episcopal Church, Eaton Rapids, Michigan, briefly states the completion of a successful winter program and points to the splendid co-operation which exists between all the Spiritualist churches in the "Sunshine City."

The communication further states that during the winter season, the following speakers and mediums lent their wholehearted support and co-operation: Rev. Nellie Curry, Co-Pastor of the People's Spiritualist Church; Rev. Clara Knost-Larrick, Rev. Bertie Lily Candler, Rev. Dorothy Flexer, Rev. John Bunker, Rev. Loretta Schmitt and many others.
